

WILA INTRODUCES:

THE WILA ACADEMY

WELCOME TO THE WILA ACADEMY

Since 1932, WILA has amassed a wealth of knowledge and experience in the press brake industry. As the industry leader in press brake solutions, we want to share that knowledge and experience with you. Do you want to become more successful in your press brake tooling sales? Then knowledge about the press brake market and effective press brake solutions is essential.

We offer a range of training courses (sales, service and custom courses) you can combine to fit your specific learning needs.

In our state-of-the-art training center we can train you on the added value of our solutions, provide hands-on experience at the press brake, and provide best practices concerning the maintenance of our tooling systems.

TRAINING COURSES

Our courses are divided into different subcategories:

1. Sales courses

These training courses will give you more insight into WILA, the press brake tooling market, our product groups, and the added value of our solutions. For example a basic or advanced sales training course, a sales refresher course or a retrofit course.

2. Service courses

These training courses will go into how to install, set up, service and maintain our tooling and tooling system. These courses will be offered from basic to advanced levels.

3. Custom courses

These training courses can be tailored to your specific needs and are possible for both sales and service related topics.
